The M48 Highland Scottish Dirk takes the traditional Scottish long dagger and gives it a sleek, modern look. It boasts an extraordinary tactical feel, backed up by a 9 1/2" 2Cr13 stainless steel blade with a nonreflective black oxide coating and a chic satin surface grind. The blade is accented with three through-holes that lead up to the stainless steel guard. The handle is black TPR, ergonomically contoured to fit comfortably in your hand. Transport is a breeze with the rugged polypropylene belt sheath, which features a double-layered strap to keep the Dirk anchored firmly in place. Just strap the sheath to your belt, and you're ready to go!
